Editorial

Broadword issue 60

This is issue 60 of Broadword magazine and that is something of a milestone given all the trials and challenges which this publication has faced over the years since the magazine first appeared as a slim black and white, A4 new-sheet.

In the spirit of British National Socialist resolve, Broadword continues to be published as often as resources and funding allows. It goes without saying that Broadword and British Movement stand defiant in the ever changing situations that face our country, be they political, social, economic or pandemic.

The United Kingdom continues to struggle as the present Conservative government repeatedly mishandles the Covid-19 situation and blunders from one 'world-beating' failure of policy to the next.

Brexit, or at least some form of it, has taken place under Conservative stewardship, another mishandled series of policy negotiations that leave much yet to resolve under the leadership of a Prime Minister who is a self-confessed Globalist.

Note to Broadword readers.

The Covid-19 has interrupted the ongoing work to return Broadword magazine to appearing as a quarterly publication. Broadword thanks its subscribers and readers for their patience, the Broadword team is determined to keep this publication going in the face of such obstacles.

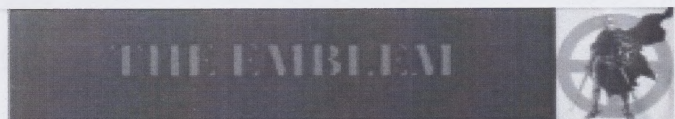

Meanwhile the Conservative administration fails to deal with illegal immigration and thousands of migrants, mostly economic migrants masquerading as 'asylum-seekers' invade Britain's shores.

The presence of so many illegal immigrants living in the UK at tax-payers expense is a ticking time bomb of future social and ethnic tensions.

Meanwhile on the domestic front there a greater political, social and ethnic tensions being stirred up by militants of the Black Lives Matter movement together with their far-Left allies of Anti-Fa and assorted Marxist /Communist affiliates.

In Scotland the political agitation by the leftists of the Scottish National Party (SNP) threatens the fabric of the United Kingdom and in Ulster the Irish republicans of Sinn Fein and the SDLP undermine the politics of the Province.

If ever there was a time when Britain needed a National Socialist alternative, it is now!

What a Start to the Year!

The start of the year has been eventful, and we are only a month in.

The expected lockdown has happened. The cap on the number of children coming to school for a day and then include them in the lockdown and close the schools.

So again, we are only allowed out for work, food, medical supplies or treatment and exercise.

The new year has already started on how the poor children should be paid for by everyone. This time though the government decided against vouchers and handouts to send food parcels out. But those who received the parcels instantly took to social media complaining that the parcels were not good enough and all the M-rated dog-foods have jumped on the bandwagon and our government have done their usual thing and backed down and handles some can claim the vouchers again.

The vaccine program is full swing. At the start of this week over 6 million people have had their first dose. Where money wanted to now there are more vaccination centres across the country.

Yet, local doctors' surgeries cannot get enough vaccines. The vaccine is allegedly going to last the year, but still we must see when children will be allowed back to school or when this current lockdown will end. We definitely will still be in lockdown until the end of March by the looks of things.

Then just last week some Christmas hit our fair land and yet again many people watched how their homes were flooded. Why because developers and the government agencies involved with planning have constantly ignored nature and floodplains. Flood plains are natural, then decide where the water will go when we storm are heading. But many that think building where they want will beat nature and forget about the poor individuals who think they brought into their future.

Whilst over in America, they have a new President who is passed his test and then he told what to do and what to say. The event leading up to the inauguration have been condemned by the world as an attack on democracy. With the attack on Capitol Hill, the country is now on the heat for all these that took part.

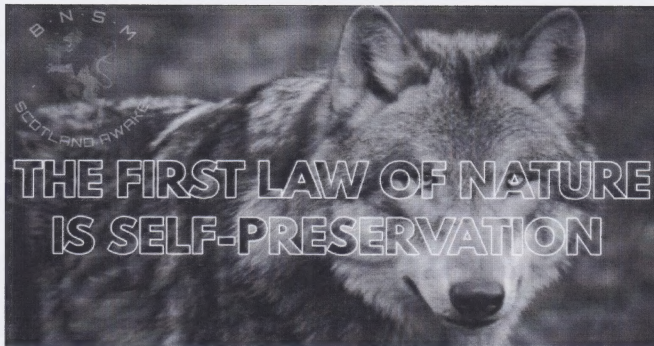

Yet, the BLM are still protesting, and no consideration for the destruction and violence they commit.

Time will tell, we are in for a longer ride. There though we are thousands of miles away, the damage the new President causes will affect us.

Did you know..
The term
'Conspiracy Theorist' was popularized by the CIA?

The term was used to stop critical thinkers from asking questions about the JFK assassination. In a memo called "Countering Criticism of The Warren Report" the CIA set out to make the term a weapon against anyone who questioned the governments secret activities and programs.

WHAT BRITISH NATIONAL SOCIALISM DOES NOT NEED IS TO BE DISTRACTED BY THESE FANTASISTS

These young lads are not National Socialists, they display no understanding of Folkish ideology, or the underlying racial and philosophical theory behind National Socialism. Their on-line ravings are a reflection of the Hollywood imagery they have absorbed and obsessive on-line gaming that fuels their violent fantasies, The mainstream media laps up the details of these isolated cases and professional anti-racist organisations present these fantasies as reality and an ‘ever present danger’ in order to justify their own existence and as a prompt for concerned ethnic and religious minorities to fund their “investigations”.

Terrorist aged 14 ran Nazi cell from gran's cottage in Cornwall

Behind bars: White supremacist Luke Hunter

Far-Right group championing race war

By Crime Editor

It is the terrorist group which has become notorious for recruiting teenagers. Feuerkrieg Divisiona (FKD) started in 2018 as a small, international neo-Nazi organisation following a white supremacist ideology and advocating acts of terrorism to start a ‘race war’.

Its disturbing messages have led to outwardly normal British schoolboys plotting gun and bomb massacres.

Former RAF cadet Paul Dunleavy, 17, who considered himself a ‘full-on Nazi’, was jailed last November for preparing a terrorist attack after he began researching converted fire-

Jailed: Paul Dunleavy, left, and Luke Hunter were members arms and the Christchurch massacre in New Zealand. Dunleavy also gave advice on building viable guns to other far-right extremists. He had just turned 16 when he plotted to buy a blank-firing gun and turn it into a live weapon to provoke a ‘race war’. The pupil at Lawrence Sheriff School in Rugby, Warwickshire, hoarded knives, shotgun cartridges and templates for part of a gun in his bedroom, along with sketches of swastikas and firearms. Other members of FKD include the son of a counterterrorism officer who became a one-man ‘propaganda machine’ for the group. Luke Hunter was dubbed a white supremacist ‘influencer’ as he encouraged racial hatred and mass murder on multiple online platforms. The 23-year-old produced video propaganda for FKD including a film containing a death threat to the Chief Constable of West Midlands Police Dave Thompson. In December, he was sentenced at Leeds Crown Court to four years and two months after admitting seven charges of encouraging terrorism and disseminating terrorist publications. Last year Prill Patel proscribed FKD, making it a criminal offence to be a member.

Anti-terror officer's son jailed in neo-Nazi hate case

Terrorism is NOT British National Socialism

The newspapers actually expect the British public to believe that a handful of teenage lads hiding behind unconvincing names and violent, computer generated images are a serious political force in the United Kingdom?

ARE WE SERIOUSLY MEANT TO BELIEVE THAT A 14 YEAR OLD BOY WAS RUNNING A GENUINE, ACTIVE, ARMED ‘NAZI’ TERRORIST CELL FROM HIS BEDROOM?

The lurid on-line images presented by such teenage misfits is NOT National Socialism but reflects a Hollywood ‘Sci-Fi’ artists wild imaginings or a comic book fixation with swastikas and weapons. Their violent chat room discussions have more in common with S&M magazines and unfulfilled, deviant sexual fantasies than genuine revolutionary politics. Of course the police, Special Branch, MI5 and assorted security services bring such cases to court for prosecution because it justifies their existence and their grossly inflated budgets. Plus it allows the State to stretch reality to be able to say, “Look the Far-Right’ are as much of a threat as the Islamist jihadists”.

If the Troubles in Northern Ireland proved anything at all, it is that paramilitary actions in the UK will draw the full attention of the security services, with all the usual infiltration by ‘State Assets’, agents provocateurs and paid informers. Any revolutionary, armed fringe group parading on the internet will draw the State security agencies like flies to a dung heap.

BLM - a racial, political and cultural ticking time-bomb aimed at the heart of British society and politics.

Black Lives Matter (UK) has now re-named and re-branded itself as the Black Liberation Movement (UK)/

There are so far unconfirmed stories that the new BLM (UK) has received a substantial injection of cash from sources in the USA and elsewhere totalling hundreds of thousands of pounds.

To fund what exactly ?

According to BLM's own press releases, the organisation exists to champion the rights of black people in the UK, to challenge racism, to fight institutional racism in the UK, to defend black people from injustice and to oppose white supremacy.

 Broadword asks the obvious question:

'Why, if they hate the 'racism' of living in Britain so much, and hate the UK's 'racist' institutions so much, Why do they continue to live here?

Why don't they leave to live in a black majority country?

BLM - The Trojan Horse

While some BLM street activists have grabbed the mass media headlines, the real threat to White Britain comes from those radical elements who campaign 'behind the scenes'.

Less well known to the general public are the black academics in the British university system who stage manage articles and academic papers aimed at influencing liberal and left-wing politicians and journalists.

Elsewhere in this issue of Broadword are articles on the impact of Cultural Marxism in the UK today, much of the stimulation for those policy changes comes from influential black figures in the mainstream political parties, black activists in the academic field and influential black entertainers and sports personalities.

The emergence of the Black Lives Matter movement in Britain in 2020 gave these elements a major media platform on which to build their agenda of demands and an opportunity to rally a large number of white liberals and left-wing activists to their cause.

There is no question that BLM, in whatever guise it now adopts, is geared to forcing large scale social changes and radical political policy in the United Kingdom.

Campaigns around statues and street names are high profile headline grabbers, but that is merely cosmetic to the huge shifts in power that these elements seek to make.

Above: Sasha Johnson the very public, very vocal face of BLM (UK) in London.

During January 2021, Sasha Johnson was arrested for leading an unauthorised demonstration in Central London, during which she bellowed assorted BLM chants and slogans through a loud-hailer, including frequent calls for 'Black Power!'. Obviously Sasha Johnson felt that the Covid-19 restrictions on protests, heavily enforced against anti-lockdown protestors, did not apply to BLM. After all during the summer months of 2020, there had been clear two tier policing in London, where BLM were given a free hand to protests wherever and in whatever numbers they liked, but any other forms of protests was heavily put down.

A MINORITY DICTATING TO THE MAJORITY

In the United Kingdom the majority of the population at the end of 2020, were still White British and White Europeans.

The much hyped BAME population overall remains between 13% and 15% of the entire UK population, and that figure includes those of mixed-race.

Organisations like BLM are very much focussed on the black elements of the population, largely to the exclusion of those who are South Asian, Chinese, Vietnamese, Malaysian, Sri Lankan, Philipino or other East Asian origins.

BLM is very much Afro-centric in its appeal and therefore represents a much smaller section of the UK population. So BLM and other 'Black focus' organisations seeking to force through "change" in favour of their own ethnic bloc are in effect demanding a greater representation for a narrower ethnic minority base and are dictating demands to a greater indigenous majority population and other ethnic groups.

December 2020: Another Grooming Gang Case in West Yorkshire 32 Arrests - 150 historic crimes

The ongoing story of organised Asian grooming gangs continues to fester across the United Kingdom, Most, but by all means, not all grooming gang activity is centred on the multicultural urban centres of the North of England and the Midlands. A recent Home Office report was, as expected, a whitewash of the facts, distorted statistics were supposed to "prove" that the majority of child sexual exploitation cases, paedophile activity and the grooming of under age girls and boys was carried out by White male perverts.

The report deliberately avoided the difficult questions that the Home Office, Police and social services nationwide should have been asking. The whole question of organised networks of Asian Muslim men grooming and trafficking under age White British girls for sex was side-lined. The very serious issues around religion, culture and social attitudes was not tackled., and there are rumours that much of the data and reports behind the Home Office document was heavily redacted to conceal the unwanted reality of grooming gangs.

A Series of Warnings for Britain from the USA

US law-enforcement 'mug shot' of John E. Sullivan, an organiser for both AntiFa and BLM in Utah.

Obviously he is not a 'White Supremacist', the mainstream media have tried to ignore his part in the crowd invasion of the Capitol building in Washington DC on January 6th, and his very vocal incitements to burn down the building and attack the police.

ALL WAS NOT IT SEEMS THE INVASION OF THE US CAPITOL BUILDINGS ON JANUARY 6th 2021

BLM and AntiFa in collaboration with the US mainstream media. Television news channels CNN and NBC paid a total of $70,000 to the BLM/AntiFa organiser John E Sullivan for exclusive video footage from inside the Capitol building.

Both CNN and NBC had legal contracts with John E; Sullivan. CNN agreed a fee of $35,000 and NBC had a separate legal contract with him, again for $35,000, both contracts were dated and signed on January 6th 2021.

Sullivan was later arrested and is standing trial for his part in the invasion of the Capitol. Other BLM and AntiFa activists were also identified as part of the crowd inside the building.

Although the mainstream media repeatedly claimed that the invasion of the Capitol building was carried out entirely by White supremacists and Trump supporters, the NYPD and FBI arrests told a different story.

Reports from American patriots also identifies a number of paid FBI informers/provocateurs amongst the alleged mob of insurrection. Contrary to mainstream media reports, the crowd which forced its way into the Capitol were not all Trump fanatics and alleged White Supremacists, but included anarchists, AntiFa and BLM activists.

WHAT HAPPENS IN AMERICAN DOMESTIC POLITICS AND THE US ECONOMY WILL EVENTUALLY HAVE REPERCUSSIONS HERE IN BRITAIN.

The Coca-Cola Company has Intoduced Specific Training Courses for White Coca-Cola Employees to Teach Them to be 'LESS WHITE'

This new staff training initiative by Coca-Cola is being rolled out across the USA.

A staff whistle-blower has passed on the details of internal Coca-Cola staff training.

Organised and ddveloped by a White liberal training 'specialist', many White Americans rightly find this level of politicised manipulation both offensive and insulting. Hopefully the Coca-Cola senior management will see sense and abandon this Cultural Marxist brain-washing strategy.

Note to Broadsword readers:

As this article is being edited, reports have come through that the Coca-Cola company is back-tracking on the above "training agenda" and due to a world-wide negative reaction is going to withdraw the offending material.

ANNOUNCEMENT LONDON HAS FALLEN

MORE EVIDENCE THAT

LONDON HAS FALLEN

ANNOUNCEMENT LONDON HAS FALLEN

Appointed by London Mayor Sadiq Khan

The members of the Committee for Diversity in the Public Realm

Qualifications appear to be Far-Left activists and 'woke' anti-racist liberals.

One is described as a "social justice activist", another is an expert in "financial inclusivity", whatever that means. There appears to be no balance of opinions in this committee, all have been selected on the basis of either their ethnicity or their Cultural Marxist credentials.

Note: The majority of those appointed are non-white and the ethnic make-up here does not reflect the overall ethnic background of the majority of the population of London.

As this article was being prepared, one of the most militant African-heritage committee members was sacked for his 'anti-semitic' writings in the past.

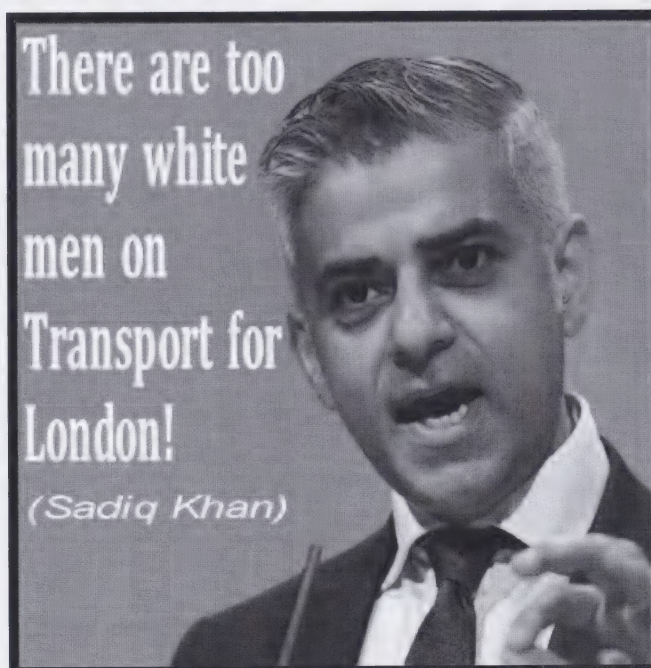

LONDON IS SUPPOSED TO BE THE CAPITAL CITY OF THE UNITED KINGDOM OF GREAT BRITAIN

.... and yet within the boundaries of so-called, 'Greater London', the ethnic make-up of the city does not reflect the ethnic make-up of the UK.

The overall population of London has White British as an ethnic minority, and in some boroughs the White British are almost non-existent.

Even though London (Westminster) is the centre of government, the interests and attitudes of the majority UK population (over 85% White British) are not reflected in the politics of Westminster, nor are they reflected in the politics and governance of the London boroughs. The threat posed to the historic character of London, in the shape of statues, monuments, street names and the names of historic landmarks and buildings, by the political attitudes of minority interest groups, fails to acknowledge the national interests of the majority British population.

It is time to take back control of our capital city.

The Onslaught of Multi-Culturalism

The Corrosion of British Culture, Heritage and Traditions.

'Thou Shalt Not Say

How the Political Left Now Impose Control Over British History, Culture and Entertainment

Histories now being written for the mainstream by radical Left-wing authors and non-white writers aimed at criticising and undermining British history, heritage and culture. Britain's past has now to be viewed through a Cultural Marxist prism.

A recently published history of the British Empire and its place in modern Britain has of course been written by an Asian academic raised in Wolverhampton. Sathnam Sanghera is the author of a new book, "Empireland: How Imperialism Has Shaped Modern Britain.", it is of course a less than flattering portrait of the British Empire and the White British. Not surprisingly the book has received a glowing review in the left-wing press, particularly in 'The Guardian.'

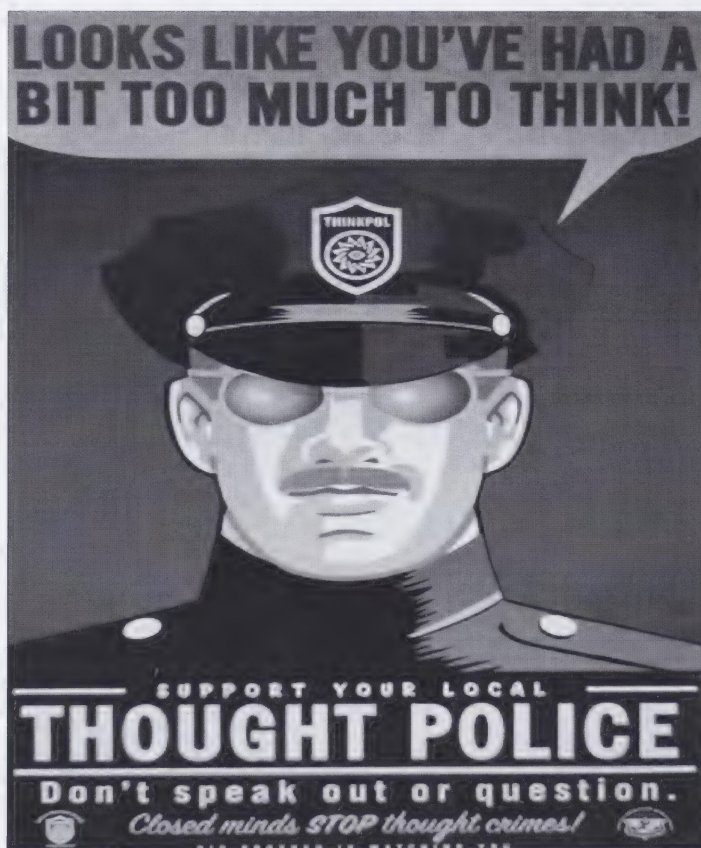

Sanghera states that the British Empire was, "one of the biggest white supremacist enterprises in the history of humanity." The Guardian reviewer of Sanghera's work is of course a member of the ethnic minority population too, Fara Dabhoiwala is fulsome in praising the unveiling of "the full gut-wrenching horror of imperial violence and racism."

The re-writing of British history is now well underway and the Left are in full control of the process.

Likewise the world of entertainment is being purged of 'unacceptable language', jokes, views and opinions. Political correctness now dictates what is, or is not to be screened on television.

It is now common practice on television for re-runs of old 1970's and 1980's British sit-com series to be preceded by warnings that the programme contains, "outdated language and attitudes which might offend some viewers."

Cultural Marxism now dictates what you can watch on TV.

Censor of Word, Thought and Deed

A well organised campaign by Left-wing academics, opinion-shapers and journalists have over the last decade effectively censored the spoken word, the written word and broadcast content.

Now the media refers to the "N-word", rather than heaven forbid dare to say "nigger". While it is perfectly acceptable to swear on TV and radio, and in print using profane language which in the past would have seen broadcasters and TV script writers sacked from their jobs, it is strictly forbidden to use words such as "wog" or "darkie" or similar vernacular epithets of a racial nature.

So embedded has the new 'woke' attitude become that the Royal Air Force has even gone so far as to censor the grave stone of Wing Commander Guy Gibson's dog "Nigger" at RAF Spalding in case someone is offended by the dog's name. No doubt the 1950's film "The Dambusters" will be suitably censored if it is permitted to be screened on TV.

Note to millenials: During the 1940's, 1950's and indeed into the 1960's it was quite common for pure black dogs and cats to be named "Nigger" with no sense of intending offence.

PROPAGANDA and the War Against 'Woke' Culture

Culture Wars the New Cultural Marxist Call to Battle

"Critical Race Theory" - the radical Left are desperate to see this subject introduced into the British schools curriculum at all levels. It is basic propaganda tool built around introducing all school children and students to the concept of "white privilege" and "white guilt", to introduce non-whites to a permanent sense of victimhood at the hands of White British society, a recipe for resentment. So far, the Conservative government has resisted attempts by Left-wing teaching organisations and Marxist academics to make the teaching of 'critical race theory' compulsory in Britain.

Operation Black Vote has been operating over the last decade and is driven by left-wing activists and heavily promoted by the peer Simon Woolley. The idea being that so-called BAME voters feel excluded from the political process and that if all non-white voters took part in elections at every level, then the BAME communities would have greater influence and 'racist' policies would be overturned.

Erasing British History: The Removal of Statues and Monuments Continues

The Attack on British Historical Figures, Buildings, Monuments and Institutions Has Quietly Gained Pace...

The mainstream media has imposed a virtual press black-out (no pun intended) on the measures being taken to remove monuments or rename buildings and institutions.

At the time of writing statues have either been removed or are scheduled for removal.

The British public are not being told, except where local news outlets present a "feel good" story presenting apparent approval of the actions taken, always after the fact.

Labour dominated councils are pushing ahead to remove "unacceptable statues and monuments. Militant groups like 'Statues Must Fall'

This is not just in London, but is taking place in Bristol, Birmingham, Leicester, Oxford, Cardiff, Hull, Liverpool and Manchester.

Even some pubs are being forced to change their traditional names.

Conservative government measures to protect statues is too little, too late.

Black and Left-wing organisations are delighted at the speed with which "unacceptable" monuments are being eradicated from public gaze.

We now are in a situation where people who make up less than 15% of the total population of the United Kingdom are dictating to the majority population as to how we can remember our history, what statues and monuments we can have in our public spaces and how we should name our civic buildings and institutions.

Consider the following facts:

Within the overall ethnic make-up of the United Kingdom, the percentage of people who are either African-heritage, African-Caribbean heritage or are mixed race (Black/White) makes up for less than 10% of the total population.

Yet, Britain now has imposed upon the majority population Black History Month, every October. Within the academic world and within the policy making bodies of education, organisations like Black Educators Alliance, the Coalition of Anti-racist Educators, are exerting excessive influence on a local, regional, and in some cases a national scale.

These Cultural Marxists are pressuring universities and colleges to "de-colonise" their curriculum in order to include 'diverse' authors and subjects. Even during the periods of Covid virus lockdown, home schooling programmes are being aimed at even primary school age children to introduce the concepts of 'diversity', 'identity' and the myth of 'White privilege.'

So confident are the Cultural Marxists in the roll out of their education agenda, that now the ideas of 'inclusion,' 'diversity' and 'identity' are being expanded to include sexuality and gender.

Our Ancestors

Blood and Soil the Link that Binds us to our Homeland

"The idea of a network of kinship is intrinsic to a definition of a peasant, and must by definition exclude those alien to that network. The ideal peasant farm is orientated towards the long term, the family and the future of the tribe. 'Peasantness' cannot absorb alien cultures, religions and races, without the risk of self-destruction."

Anna Bramwell.

The modern Green Party and the wider Eco-movement is desperate to involve non-whites in the British countryside and involvement in natural history..

Too often the urban population centres, especially inner London are non-white and have no understanding or appreciation of the British countryside, rural life or wildlife.

Modern natural history is in a desperate race to introduce non-whites to forests and nature reserves to get THEM interested and involved in something they do not understand or see as relevant to their lives.

There is great pressure behind the scenes for wildlife charities to create 'opportunities for diversity' and to be 'more inclusive'.

This pressure has led to a desperate scramble by organisations like the Wild Life Trusts, the Woodland Trust and the Royal Society for the Protection of Birds to include activities specifically aimed at inner city, non-white communities in order to 'get them involved' and to introduce them to the British countryside. There is also pressure for these organisations to include reports in their publications featuring BAME families and BAME wildlife enthusiasts visiting nature reserves and taking part in activities that most BAME communities regard as being 'White people's hobbies'.

The wildlife charities find themselves being virtually blackmailed by government departments like Natural England where funding grants are now linked to incorporating 'diversity' as a requirement for securing financial support from government. This push for diversity now extends to broadcasters and TV programme makers, where once features and documentaries on rural Britain and British wildlife never included black or brown faces, every such programme must now include a BAME bird-watcher or a 'prize-winning' wildlife photographer.

OUR ANCESTORS

We Cannot and Must not Allow the Cultural Marxists to Falsify the History of Britain. To Denigrate Our Ancestors and Forebearers.

IN April 2009, more than 122 Members of Parliament at Westminster signed a declaration which affirmed that there was no such thing as an indigenous people in Britain.

This declaration by members of the Conservative, Liberal-Democrat and Labour parties said that there was no such thing as a native people of Britain, implying that all were foreigners and thereby justifying the current immigration invasion.

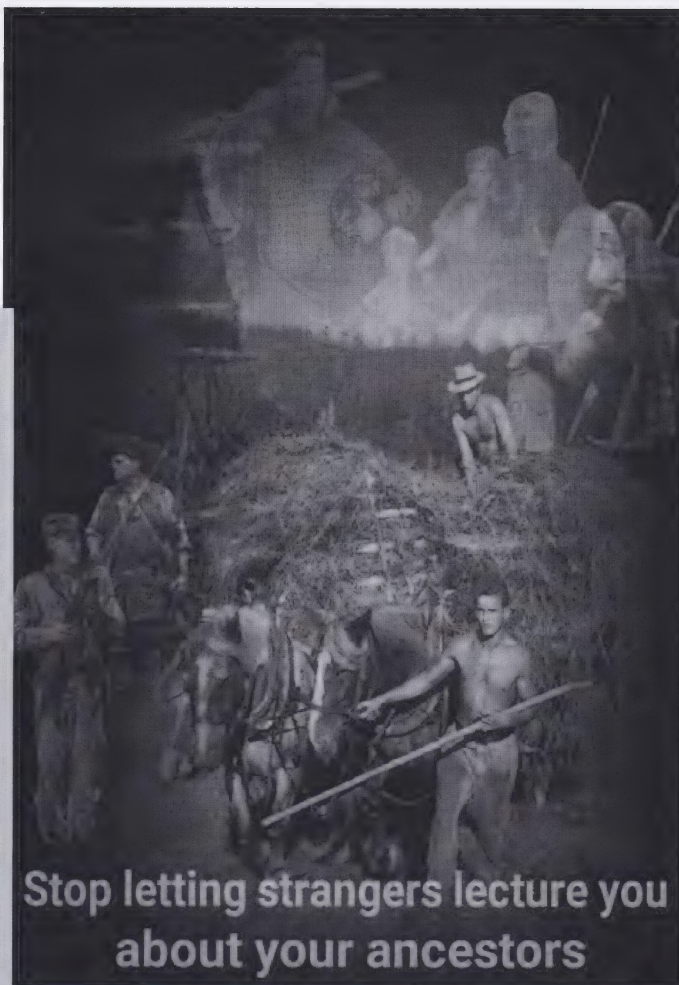

This astonishing declaration, which took the form of an Early Day Motion entitled the "Rights of Tribal and Indigenous Peoples", noted the Government's refusal to put the rights of indigenous peoples on a legal footing with regard to protection against "climate change." The reason why the Government had refused to "put these rights on a firm legal footing" was, the declaration said, done "on the grounds that there are no indigenous peoples in the United Kingdom."

Labour MP Calls For the 'Bending' of History Taught in British Schools in the 'Interests of Diversity' and 'nation-building'.

David Lammy, the Labour MP for the North London constituency of Tottenham has called on Twitter for people to "bend history" in order to "nation build for everyone" and also to support organisations like Black Lives Matter.

Exactly what David Lammy considers as 'bending' history to be more inclusive and in the interests of 'diversity' he did not make clear.

DON'T MENTION THE ANGLO-SAXONS !

A group of Left-wing students and academics are calling on broadcasters and documentary makers not to refer to 'Anglo-Saxon England' when making programmes about Britain's past because the term is "upsetting" to some BAME students and documentary viewers and reflects "exclusion" and strengthens ideas about non-whites being "the other" and not part of Britain's past. You could not make this stuff up !

University of Leicester

At least two academics resign as students and left-wing groups call for 'restructuring' of the teaching of English literature at Leicester and the dropping of traditional English literature topics such as the great Anglo-Saxon poetry of Beowulf and the medieval works of Geoffrey Chaucer, the Canterbury Tales.

Some left-wing student bodies are demanding that the university takes steps to remove 'colonialist' or 'imperialist' era subjects from the course work.

Left-wing forums allied to Black Lives Matter are attempting to bully Leicester University into making English Literature more "diverse" and want classic English subject areas such as traditional Anglo-Saxon works and the works of Chaucer to be replaced by African, Black American and Asian or Arabic literature.

WHAT KIND OF FUTURE DOES BRITAIN FACE AFTER COVID?

Will there ever be a return to normality?
Will there be such a thing as the media
vaunted 'New Normal' ?

Throughout the Covid-19 pandemic the 'democratic' Conservative government has exhibited all the worst traits of so-called, 'liberal democracy'. The Prime Minister Boris Johnson has ruled by decree, issuing "guidance" and rules for control of the general public. Freedom of movement, freedom of political rights to protest and assembly have all been side-lined and the police have gained new powers to deal with 'public order'.

As is so often the case when the police acquire new powers to arrest and control public gatherings, the police, especially the Metropolitan Police in London, will be reluctant to give up those powers and will operate those elements of crowd control and restrictions over public assembly and freedom of speech, long after Covid-19 has gone into history.

There has been a clear policy of political policing in operation during the Covid restrictions.

Two tier levels of policing public demonstrations were blatant, once again most blatantly exhibited by the Metropolitan Police. The soft policing of Black Lives Matter protests during the Summer of 2020 were in stark contrast to the heavy-handed use of excessive force against anti-lockdown protests and those patriots guarding monuments and statues.

Politically and financially there has been corruption on a large scale as lucrative government contracts have been liberally handed out to global companies with strong ties to the Conservative Party. Contracts to operate 'test and trace' or to supply PPE or other medical equipment have been given to favoured institutions and overseas corporations. New companies which sprang up almost over-night, often to those with no previous experience or proven record of supplying such equipment, were handed valuable contracts. One such contract went to a new business venture being launched by a former pub landlord, who was a personal acquaintance of Health Minister Matt Hancock,

Other key medical research and vaccine providers just happened to have key Conservative Party and government advisors as major share-holders; Matt Hancock again, also SAGE Covid expert Professor Chris Whitty and his SAGE colleague Sir Patrick Vallance.

It is almost certain that those billions of pounds in government contracts, effectively British tax-payers' money has lined the pockets of multi-national companies and the total sums of government allocations will never be made clear to the British public.

What Will Britain Be Like After Covid?

As the Conservative government continues to mismanage the UK economy, our country can expect a post-lockdown surge in austerity, unemployment, poverty, homelessness and social unrest.

The education system is in free-fall and the social services will be pushed close to collapse.

Hundreds if not thousands of small and medium sized businesses will go under, but the big supermarkets and the on-line mega companies like Amazon will make fortunes.

Meanwhile the government's much trumpeted furlough scheme and NHS 'Test and Trace' have created a huge national debt of approximately £400 billion. Something that future generations of UK tax-payers will be paying off for decades. After all most of that debt has been borrowed from the international banks and finance houses.

The only bright light for our nation's future is that the post-Covid future will create exactly the right kind of social and economic conditions where the British people will distrust the government and the mainstream political parties and will look towards a new path out of the mess, they will want radical solutions, and as British National Socialists we must seek to answer that call and campaign as never before.

The post-Covid UK will be our Weimar period.

WHAT ABOUT IMMIGRATION AFTER COVID ?

Leaving aside the never ending flow of illegal immigrants crossing the English Channel to invade Britain, the Conservative government has now totally failed to fulfill its election pledges about controlling immigration.

As Britain looks towards the post-Covid era, a new and deeply worrying immigration threat looms on the post-Covid horizon.

Britain now faces the possibility of tens of thousands of Hong Kong Chinese coming to settle in Britain as the government mishandles the visa and passport regulations linked to the former colony.

The very real threat of hundreds of thousands of Hong Kong Chinese arriving in the UK raises all these logistical questions.

How and where will these people be housed?
What kind of impact will this flood of humanity have on the NHS, Social Services and education?
These people are going to want jobs and possibly careers. Doing what exactly?

What impact will they have on British culture and politics?

And what kind of impact will they have on Britain's ethnic make-up?

STRENGTH THROUGH JOY

Unfortunately the Covid-19 lockdown restrictions forced the British Movement Strength Through Joy co-ordinators to postpone the programme of events for 2020 and for the early months of 2021. Nevertheless, the agenda remains open ended and it is hoped that the full programme of outdoor and cultural activities will resume post -Covid.

 In the meantime this page illustrates some historic images from the Strength Through Joy movement in Europe in the 1930's. Perhaps these images will serve as some form of inspiration for the future Strength Through Joy agenda here in the United Kingdom.

The Strength Through Joy movement operated through National Socialist organisation across Europe and included outdoor events, sporting activities, holidays (including foreign travel), cinema, theatre, the arts and cultural festivals.

In Britain, Sir Oswald Mosley's BUF established a series of Summercamps along the Sussex coast. These camps, held between 1933 and 1938 had organised camping under canvas, sporting competitions and swimming. In the post-war period, British Movement re-introduced the ideas of Strength Through Joy in the early 1980's, with summer camps held in North Wales in the town on Llangollen, in order to coincide with the Welsh national festival of the Eisteddfod.

In recent years British Movement has focussed Strength Through Joy activities in Northern England.

Strength Through Joy

Building the NS Future:

First the Grassroots Mass Movement. Then the British NS State

Building a political movement takes time, effort, hard work and sacrifice. There has never been a quick and easy way to build a political movement. The British National Socialist Movement recognises the long term nature of our struggle and the need to build a sustainable, robust network of activists who are committed to the Cause.

Covid 19 Restrictions Will Not Be Forever
However a return to street campaigns must be organised and tactical.

As stated elsewhere in this issue of Broadsword, the eventual lifting of Covid-19 restrictions must not be the signal for a mass scramble to get out onto the streets, A return to basic campaigning must be organised and part of a planned strategy. Even simple tasks such as distributing literature or leafleting housing estates needs to be carried out with plenty of thought. It is hoped that BM activists will be able to begin the vital project of the White Towns campaign.

This calls for committed street activists as part of roving propaganda teams who can distribute leaflets and other BM literature in a town centre or shopping precinct for at least an hour before moving on to repeat the activity in another near by town. The White Towns campaign is effective and usually trouble free, because opposition has no time to organise or 'mob-up'.

Blood and Soil in Action
A confident display of the British Movement

GIVING OUR FOLK A FIRM BASE ON WHICH TO CAMPAIGN.

A successful political movement must have an ideological core. The strategy it follows demand an analysis of the present moment, of current social trends, and a way forward for the movement to make an impact on the country in the years ahead. Such a strategy must be long term in vision. The movement must be clear in its principles, its values and its position in regard to the current political and economic climate.

A modern National Socialist movement cannot operate on the whims of focus groups and 'Think Tanks', it must be decisive and uncompromising.

There must be no watering down of basic principles, no departure from underlying ideology. There is no room for "a little salt in the soup".

"Every philosophy of life, even if totally correct and of the greatest benefit to mankind, remains insignificant in national life until its principles have become the flag of a fighting movement.

This movement in turn will have the form of a party until its work is completed through the victory of its idea and its doctrine has become the principle of a new state in the national community."

BEING ALERT TO THE THREAT OF THE GREAT RE-SET

The Globalist Elite See the Covid-19 Crisis as the Golden Opportunity to Bring Forward Their Plans for a Great Global Economic, Political, Trade and Manufacturing Re-set.

'Corporocracy' the domination of world economics and trade by a dominant group of 'super-corporations' and global companies.

'Economic Totalitarianism' the global domination of specific industries and banks by a dominant group of international mega-corporations.

In the world of 'Big Tech' consider Amazon, Facebook and Google.

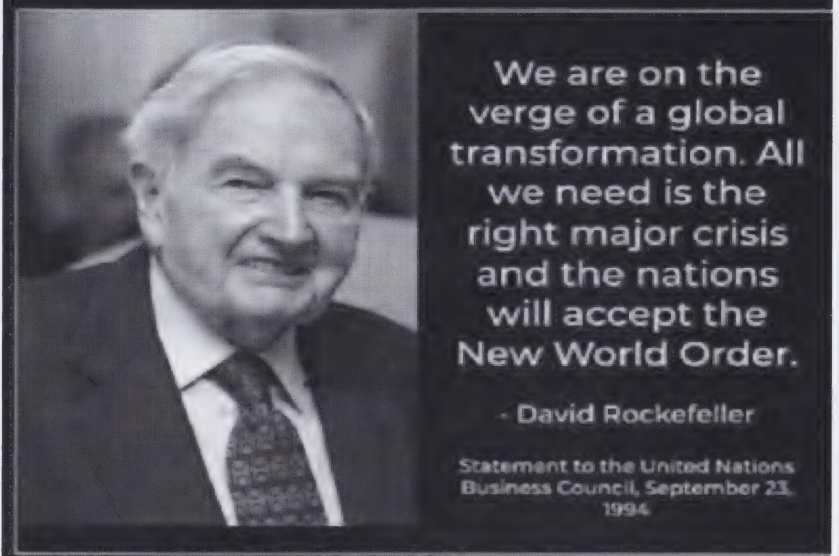

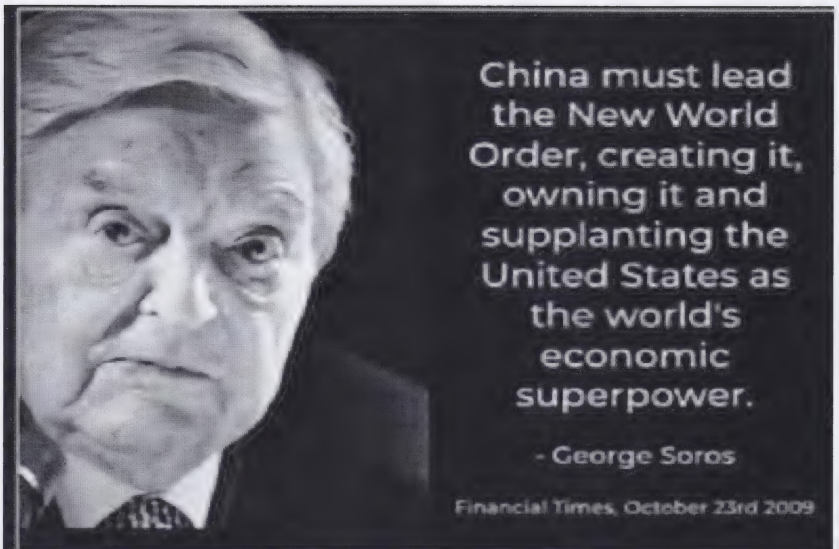

The Great Re-Set is a Long-term Project

The architects of the Great Re-set, are planning for what they consider to be a future Fourth Industrial Revolution, where high-tech and robots will control manufacturing output.

The consolidation of world currencies will pave the way for a cashless society and universal wage levels.

The Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation, Bill Gates is already a multi-billionaire and his investment in the research and production of anti-Covid vaccine stands to make him and his business empire even richer.

The Tony Blair Institute for Global Change is a partner organisation in the research and data collection in preparation for the post-Covid period Great Re-set.

The Great Re-Set as part of United Nations Agenda 21

Europe and the USA without borders, eventually all countries without borders. Mass immigration totally undermines national identity, allows creation of multi-cultural society and eventually a homogeneous mono-culture.

A cash-less society - eradicates the need for national currencies, the creation of the Euro was the first step in this direction and creates template and the ideal conditions for a 'global currency' and a cashless society means total digital spending and allows total monitoring of individual spending and purchasing.

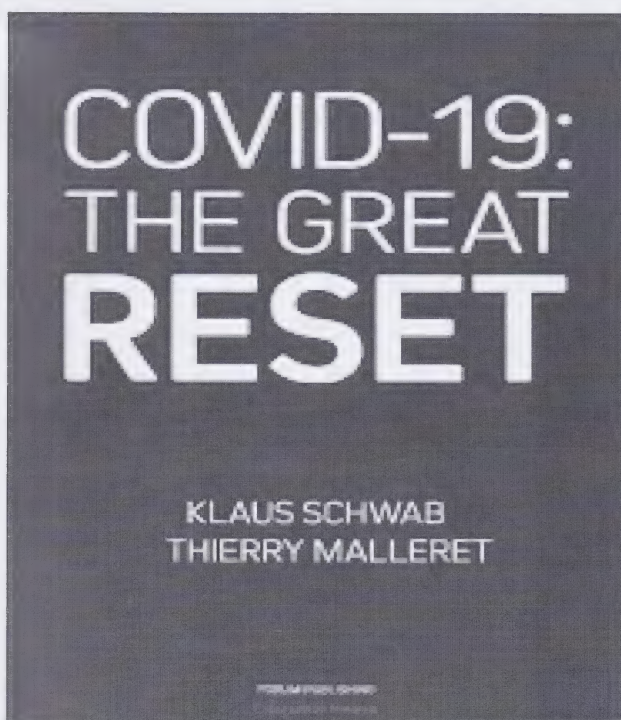

The Chinese government economic model is highly regarded by those behind the concept of the Great Re-set.

The Role of the House of Windsor

In the United Kingdom, the Globalists have been successful in recruiting Prince Charles, the Prince of Wales in publicly supporting the 'Great Re-set'.

The enormous private wealth of the House of Windsor will not be affected because the British Royal family are considered to be part of the global elite.

Plus there is the added bonus that Prince Charles can indulge his personal interest in 'Green issues'.

The Writings of Colin Jordan

Broadsword continues this series of articles examining the political writings of post-1945 British National Socialist activist Colin Jordan.

"If there is anything worth fighting for, it is to preserve my own race in possession and control of my homeland, and to see that our resources of all kinds are used to the full for the betterment of our own nation."

Colin Jordan. 1962.

The Spearhead: 1962

It was in the Spearhead that CJ first began to develop his ideas of an 'NS Vanguard', a concept he would continue to discuss and evolve for the next three decades.

He would later admit that the Spearhead para-military uniform was a mistake at the time, but the idea of a hard core of totally dedicated and ideologically committed activists was a sound strategy for building up a racial Nationalist movement in modern Britain.

Colin Jordan argued that it was not possible to build a mass movement without first establishing cadres of activists and organisers in a national network who could direct campaigns, stage propaganda events as well as select and direct new recruits.

The published transcript of Colin Jordan's election rally speech at Wulfrun Hall in Wolverhampton on October 17th 1971, where CJ was standing as a British Movement candidate for the parliamentary constituency of Wolverhampton North East.

THE VANGUARD

In creating the Vanguard Colin Jordan advocated the development of a cadre of National Socialist activists who would live by their ideology, making National Socialism a way of life not a part-time way of thinking and acting, or a hobby to be indulged at home or at weekends.

These ideas were set out by CJ in the 1990's in the pages of his bulletin 'Gothic Ripples'.

Primer for the Vanguard: taken from 'Gothic Ripples' issue 27 - September 1994.

"Accepting the three requirements for victory calls for a clear perception of and complete rejection of the enemy. The enemy, collectively, is a whole way of thinking and behaving; a whole political system and society incorporating this thought and behaviour; a whole array of persons effectively responsible for promoting this thought and behaving and this system and society of Democracy."

MULTI-RACIAL MADNESS

THE RETURN OF THE MULTI-RACIAL MADNESS PAGE

After a lapse of many issues, Broadsword has re-introduced the series of articles, 'Multi-racial Madness' where mainstream reports are highlighted to demonstrate the lunatic laws and legislation which exist in the United Kingdom to 'protect' ethnic minorities but penalise the majority White population. These same laws are used by the ethnic minorities and immigrant communities to exploit the British social welfare system, to avoid criminal prosecution and to gain whatever advantage they can gain over the indigenous White British majority. The stories and press reports we reproduce here are all true and demonstrate how the multiculturalists, the liberals and the political Left have created Multi-Racial Madness.

Killer can stay in UK - as he may harm people in Albania

By Tom Kelly
Investigations Editor

A PARANOID schizophrenic killer has escaped deportation to Albania on human rights grounds after a judge ruled he might 'harm others' in his homeland.

Aster Mija killed his flatmate in 2003 and has spent the past 17 years in prison. He was ruled fit for life after being found guilty of manslaughter by diminished responsibility for the attack on Aster Mija at their home in Ipswich - four years after the killer having a 'strong motivation' to take his medication and not appearing 'obviously mentally unwell'. A would-be psychiatrist has human rights to send him home, but an immigration judge ruled that despite free psychiatric care in Albanian hospitals and the killer having a 'strong motivation' to take his medication and not appearing 'obviously mentally unwell', it would breach his human rights to send him home. Judge Anne Rose Landers said

Mija's lack of family support in Albania meant he might struggle to access the drugs he needed, which would possibly lead him to kill himself or harm others. In a blow to Phil Patel, a Home Office adviser, against the ruling has been rejected. It was not immediately clear if Mija, who was believed another legal bid to stay. Now Judge Landers has ruled that without family support and the likelihood that Mija would be 'homeless and destitute' in Albania, he would have real difficulty accessing treatment. She ruled: "There is a real risk that in such circumstances the applicant would not be able to access medication or facilities himself and would then misuse and act on the money that entered him to do himself harm, kill himself or indeed harm others. Her ruling that deporting Mija breached his human rights was upheld after an appeal by the Home Office. But Albanian authorities and

The Guardian once again, this was on December 9th 2020, presented its leftwing readership with this 'feel good story' about a Yemeni woman who crossed eight different countries to reach the UK.

So why did she not request asylum in one of those safe EU countries ?

'WOKE' CULTURE AND POLITICAL CORRECTNESS

The so-called 'Culture-Wars' currently taking place in the United Kingdom are being driven by a hard-core of Leftist academics, journalists, self-styled political activists and fanatical SJW's - 'social justice warriors'. For years the radical Left has had an agenda to change British society and force through new legislation and social values based around a Marxist template for 'Equality'.

This agenda was effectively launched in the wake of the 1968 'Student Uprisings', originally labelled as protests against British, European and US "Imperialism" in the Third World. The momentum of this leftist fervour was shaped into a long-term strategy of infiltration of ideas into the academic world, into local government, and a filter down programme through the Trade Unions and Labour Party into all aspects of British society. This strategy in turn linked into campaigns for rights for immigrants, the many branches of anti-racism activism, anti-nuclear and environmental organisations and especially into the field of education.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Sirs,

Reading Broadword issue number 59, it was really outstanding, there was so many good points there, I can't mention them all, but the article about the Brixton turnout by the Black Lives Matter mob in political uniforms really stuck.

It seems that these BLM thugs have a green light to not only wear what they like, but the law turns a blind eye to what they are doing.

I don't know what the readers of Broadword think, but I think that the future White British generations face a bleak future if the White population don't wake up. It seems that whatever government we get in this country, they seem to care more about the 'ethnic minorities' more than the majority indigenous population. Another good article was about the invasion of Britain by Third World migrants, especially the point made that these are mostly young men who do not come from war torn countries. These people are just spongers who see Britain as a soft touch.

Yet this country is now vastly over-populated with not enough housing, so much so that greedy developers and building companies are destroying the Green Belt. The NHS cannot cope even before the pandemic, and our own people struggle to get a decent living wage.

The White British population are gradually being pushed back to Victorian standards of living.

The majority of the White population in this country must have their eyes closed.

As I have said in previous letters to Broadword, I am 82 years old and feel bitter at seeing our once great country ending up like this. Give us back our Britain the way it was! Let's have our good old White country back the way it was in the 1950's and 1960's, with a safe country where our young girls could go out without being molested by Asian gangs. A London where people could go out without fear of being stabbed on the streets.

Wake up Britain before it is too late!

B.O. Essex.

Dear Broadword.

Some thoughts here:

COVID- 19, the Corona virus, how did it get into Britain?

There are half a million foreign students in the UK.

How many immigrants? How many illegal immigrants?

How many refugees, legal or illegal?

How many foreign criminals?

(Who should all be deported)/

How many brought in Covid? How many?

Britain needs a new political force, perhaps we could call it B.C.M.

BRITISH MOVEMENT
CAMPAIGN AGAINST IMMIGRATION
AND RACIST CULTURALISM

Our northern coastline is being bombarded by boat loads of immigrants coming ashore daily. Over five thousand have landed already this year that is double the amount for all of last year. Nearly all of that boats are full of children age zero. All will claim asylum once caught, even though they should claim asylum in the first country they get to.

They know that only our own great nation is now red on everything. Their treatment once they are in our country prove them right. Once caught they are handed over to a private company who put them on coaches and transport them around country and then place them in hotels. Once in the hotels they are given three meals a day as well as thirty-five pounds spending money a week.

Our federal government are as always stirring around the same and following the liberal thinking and pushing on with the soft line and trying to place blame elsewhere. Why have they not done like most other countries and set up camps and hold these illegal all in one place until they can be returned.

The real reality of migration is that in the UK during 1991 and 2019 that more than half of the population growth was direct to migration. That being those coming in or those having children once they are here. But the decade up to 2019 it will increase to nearly three quarters.

By letting these brothers be moved around our country they have more chance of getting infected never to be caught. Then they are free to proceed to turn our back into their hand would dump and abuse our young children and so female in pain.

OBITUARY

RICHARD EDMONDS

1943 - 2020

RICHARD EDMONDS

Broadsword was very saddened to be notified of the death of veteran British Nationalist Richard Edmonds on December 23rd 2020.

An active racial Nationalist since joining the National Front in 1972.

Richard Edmonds was a committed activist and soon established his name as someone who would lead by example; a street activist, forceful speaker, organiser and election candidate, he worked his way up to a seat on the NF Directorate.

When the NF split Richard stayed loyal to John Tyndall, becoming a founder member of the New National Front which then morphed into the British National Party. He stayed with the BNP and served in a number of key roles, including owning and operating the BNP bookshop in Welling. He stayed in the BNP until 2012 when he returned to the NF.

He was fluent in several languages and campaigned in Europe, as a serious historical revisionist.

Although Richard Edmonds was never a member of British Movement, he was a regular speaker at British Movement meetings in recent years. Richard strongly supported BM and frequently shared the speaker's platform with BM speakers at a number of pan-Nationalist events.

British Nationalist politics has lost one of its most skilled and dedicated activists and his presence on the broader British Nationalist scene will be missed.
